PRODUCT OF THE WEEK

Breakfast Breaks, found at Wegmans and Giant Eagle. These on-the-go breakfast packages feature cereal, juice and a fruit and have a suggested retail price of about $2.50. They're great for on-the-go moms and kids who seem to have trouble eating before leaving the house for school each day. Since breakfast is such an important meal, I think these provide great convenience. However, I wish they included one of those aseptic packages of milk instead of juice, so don't forget to give your child some milk money for the morning.
